WHEAT GOING UP.

The wheat market Monday was the feature of all trade. The fact has developed that the Indian, Russian, and South American crop is very short and Europe must draw American for its supply. This condition has led to an advance of twenty cents a bushel within the past two or three weeks, and Monday the price in New York reached 90 cents, and in Chicago it reached 92 cents. The price rose generally in all the wheat ports of the country.

The wheat crop as harvested was estimated at 150,000,000 bushels and the increase in price now stands at over $30,000,000.

This is good news for the farmers the land over. It is terrible news for the free-silver croakers. It is the blackest eye their cause has had, for they have claimed steadily that the price of all farm products has gone down with the price of silver. The rise in the price of wheat is an argument they cannot survive. It gives the lie to the chief silver argument.

There is in the price of wheat a blessing to the American farmer. It is a blessing to the United States because it will help to make McKinley's election more certain.

SILVER'S SELFISHNESS.

The selfishness of the silver men in the present campaign is astonishing. Let this point be considered for a moment.

From reliable Western business authority it is learned that in the United States the great silver mining properties are owned by barely eighty-one individuals. These mines are capitalized at $615,000,000 and they employ only 33,000 persons, and this very small section of our people who embrace 70,000,000, is aggressively demanding a change in the monetary standing of the United States. Could impudence go further? Candidate Bryan, who is acting as their lackey, demands that the nation shall enter upon the free coinage of silver, which would reduce this country to a silver basis like that of Mexico.

If the silver barons could elect Bryan and carry out the principles which he is openly declaring to the people, free coinage would add 30 per cent to the value of their mining properties, and on their present capital of $600,000,000, it would add $180,000,000 to their value, and this would divide a profit of $200,000,000 to each of the eighty-one individuals. Is not this a grand prize worth striving for, and which has induced the silver barons to make the most gigantic efforts ever attempted in this country to delude the people into their adulterous scheme of stealing, robbery and plunder upon the honest wage-earners of the Western, the Middle, and the Eastern states?

Great Barrington's fire was accompanied by some very disgraceful and criminal scenes. There is even talk that the fire was incendiary for the purpose of plunder. A letter to the Sunday Republican says there never was a fire in Great Barrington; when plunder and pillage were more rampant and open-handed than upon this occasion. Men stood amazed and dumfounded as they witnessed the flagrant exhibitions of robbery which abounded on Railroad street Monday night. One man was seen to go into Humphrey's hardware store and take all the blankets, whips and other things that he could carry and put them into a wagon and drive off out of town. Other men were seen to go to places where goods had been temporarily stored and select what they most desired and go off with them. Women, who were guarding their household effects, which they had brought out of their burning homes with their own hands, had all they could do to keep them from taking the goods.

had made certain the destruction of the saloons, a raid was made upon the contents and very soon the streets and by-ways were filled with men and boys in a drunken condition. It is a conservative estimate to place the number of intoxicated at 100, and the condition of these creatures was disgusting.

Party considerations are not binding in the selection of all candidates for office. But when a party campaign is on, the party candidates should be supported. And parties are certainly binding in state issues, as well as national. On these grounds we ask Republicans to vote for their candidates for the state legislature. Moreover Mr. Richmond and Mr. Magenis are fit for the office. Mr. Richmond has proved this by one term of office, and Mr. Magenis is as clean and able as any new member this city has sent to Boston in a long time.

The business of this country needs confidence. Then good times will come. Let capitalists be sure they will get a good dollar back for a good dollar loaned and there will be money enough to do business with.

If Chief of Police "Kandal" thinks the Bijou theater is a disgrace to this city, let it high time that the questionable place of amusement was given a thorough investigation by the proper authorities?

The bright, new political columns of the Holyoke Transcript during the past few weeks lead us to congratulate the editor of that department of the paper. It has been very much up-to-date.

Col. Lakin and Arthur S. Knell, the well-known Republicans of Westfield, are both running independently for the legislature. And things political are very warm in the whip town.

The rising price of wheat has been a veritable bomb in the silverist camp in the Western states. It means thousands of votes for McKinley.

The price of corn and oats is going up, too. Poor silverists! It knocks the props out of under one of their chief arguments.

Wheat goes up. Silver goes down. The chief argument of the Bryanites with the Western farmer explodes.

Only the cheap silver of the greedy Western mine owners is going down in value now.

Two weeks from today.

THE EDITOR'S SHEARS.

FOR TODAY.

FATE.

Two shall be born the whole wide world apart.

And speak in different tongues, and have no thought

Each of the other's being, and no need; And these o'er unknown seas to unknown lands

Shall cross, escaping wreck, defying death;

And, all unconsciously, shape every act And bend each wandering step to this one end—

That, one day, out of darkness, they shall meet;

And read life's meaning in each other's eyes.

And two shall walk some narrow way of life

So near side by side that, should one turn

Ever so little space to right or left, They needs must stand acknowledged face to face;

And yet, with wistful eyes that never meet,

With groping hands that never clasp, and lips

Calling in vain to ears that never hear, They seek each other all their weary days

And die unsatisfied—and that is Fate!

—Susan Marr Spaulding.

TO AN OLD SILHOUETTE.

Oh sweet silhouette of days gone by,

With comb and drooping curls,

Were you in the dreamy, golden Past

The dearest of all dear girls?

Was your hair of gold? Did it treasure

The wondrous substance's ray?

Did your eyes flash fire or were they calm

As noon on a summer's day?

Did you smile and sigh? Did your cheeks

blush

At low-breathed words of praise?

Were feet as light in the minuet

As now in the waltz's maze?

Danced you the step of the gay "beau monde,"

With glances, whispers, sighs?

O—were you holy and sweetly fair,

With nuptial peace in your eyes?

The still faint odor of rose leaves dead

Yet linger about the Past,

Like the thoughts of a vanished love-tale,

Too fragrant to sweet to last.

In the twilight's glow I seem to see

Gleams of your tresses bright,

The charm of years I bridge with a sigh,

And stand by your side tonight!

—Edythe Pratt.

RECEPTION AND BANQUET.

To be Given to the Delegates to the Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The invitations are out for the Y. M. C. A. reception and banquet to be given in the Congregational chapel Thursday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock. The banquet is given to the representatives of the associations of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. About 200 delegates will be present, and with the directors and committeemen of the local Y. M. C. A., the number at the tables will be fully 250. The ladies' auxiliary will serve the banquet. Several short speeches will be made and the Y. M. C. A. Banjo club will furnish music.

Sea Captain in Town.

Capt. J. W. Cook and wife of Boston spent Sunday in town as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Potter of East Quincy street. Captain Cook has led a seafaring life for thirty-eight years, part of the time on a whaler, and has traveled as far as the east coast of Africa. He is now captain and part owner of the schooner Balano which carries 510 tons, and makes many

POLITICAL FACTS.

Deeds are facts and are forever and ever. * * * In silver countries, labor is cheap and kept cheap by the silver dollar. For my part I do not want that kind of prosperity. I want a prosperity, which, by good wages to all, is shared by all. We want a broader life broadening every day for all our people.—THOMAS B. REED

FIVE CENT DOLLAR.

HOW IT MAY FOLLOW THE PRESENT FREE SILVER COINAGE CRAZE.

After the Silver Mine Owners Had Received Their Big Profits They Might Be Taken From Them by the Fiat Money Some Cheap Money People Demand.

An appeal for extra contributions to the Popocratic cause has been made to the members of the Silver trust. They are urged to dig down deep again into their pockets and to keep on digging down deep in order to elect the president Mr. William Jennings Bryan. The appeal is pointed with the reminder that by the adoption of free silver the silver kings will be assured a clear profit of 64 cents an ounce on the 60,000,000 ounces of silver mined annually.

These mine owners have reason to expect undoubtedly that the enactment of a free coinage law will be followed by a rise in the price of silver, such as occurred when the Sherman law was enacted in 1890. The passage of a free coinage law would be sure to cause some advance in the white metal at the beginning. When the price, therefore, went up, these big owners of silver could dispose at a big profit of all the bullion they might have on hand at the time and all that could be mined within a reasonable time thereafter.

But they must know also that after the first spurge the price of silver would sink back again to about the present price and the big profits cease. But while the boom was on, while silver enjoyed its temporary inflation, the money would roll into the coffers of the silver kings, and the immense sums realized would be invested and loaned out and otherwise disposed of so as to bring in an annual return in interest.

In working for this fool's paradise, however, a day of reckoning for even the silver kings would follow in the wake of free coinage. All these fellows who are shouting for cheap money and debt repudiation do not expect to stop at 50 cent dollars. Free coinage of 50 cent dollars would be only the first step. The inevitable second step would be to institute a fiat money, a scrip currency, a 10 or 5 or 1 cent dollar. And after the silver kings and satellites had raked out through the medium of the 50 cent dollar law, this complementary 5 cent dollar would fall again from a 50 cent dollar basis to a 5 cent dollar basis, and the silver kings with the rest would be forced to accept these 5 or even 10 cent dollars in payment for the 50 cent dollars they had invested.

The law for which they are fighting rapaciously now to entitle to 50 cents for a dollar in their interests would be changed so that even the pretense of an intrinsic money standard would be abandoned, and their interests with the rest would suffer accordingly. They would get a liberal dose of their own medicine and perhaps then would be able to realize what they are blind to now—that honesty is the best policy. This is a case where it would be far better not to have loved free silver and lost than never to have loved at all.—Chicago Tribune.

Bryan's attitude toward the banks is well explained by the statement of the defunct German National bank of Lincoln, Neb. When the bank failed, William J. Bryan had $73.93 on deposit and owed the bank $11,000 on a note which is still unpaid. Bryan is one of the debtor class. He would like to pay 100 cent debts with 53 cent dollars.

Germany Has Silver to Sell.

The New York Tribune calls attention to the fact that Prince Bismarck's predilection for silver has been a costly thing for the German government. It says:

"After the laws of 1871 and 1873, placing Germany on a gold basis, the government began to sell its store of silver. It continued to do so until 1877, when Bismarck stopped it. Germany at that time had about $100,000,000 in the white metal. This amount she still has ready for market. The chancellor was condemned by all the wisest financiers of the fatherland for his action, as it was predicted at the time that the price of silver would continue to fall and Germany would lose money by retaining the metal. The prediction proved true. The price of silver has fallen even more than its greatest enemy could have wished, and the market value of the $100,000,000 today is little more than half its value in 1877. Bismarck is, of course, a patriot and wishes to promote the success of Germany rather than of the United States. If the United States adopt free coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1, Germany would have a market for her $100,000,000 of silver, and Bismarck's critics might forget the evil which he had done in 1877. The name of Bismarck, at any rate, is not one for the Popocrats to conjure with."

Germany is not the only nation which has disavowed silver to throw out the market the moment a market shall be offered. All the members of the Latin union, who were years ago forced to stop silver coinage in order to protect themselves from silver monometallism, are ready to send us silver by the ton.—Philadelphia Record.

Bismarck Not a Financier.

Both here and in Germany the report that Bismarck's views on bimetalism are treated as of importance by any section of the American people is received with a mischievous spirit. Bismarck's ignorance on all financial questions made him the butt of two generations of his parliamentary associates when he was essayed to talk on them. His speeches on these subjects used to be filled with maddest retorts to men who criticised him.—London Letter to New York Times.

A Point For Regulators.

There is a whole volume of ethics bound up in the simple Latin phrase which we translate by the word "debt."

The phrase is an alumnus, meaning another's money. People who imagine there is a hardship in the demand for the full payment of a debt seen in need of a reminder that what they have is another's money and not their own, no matter how long they have had it.—Mobile "The Beggs" (Dem.).

AFRAID OF THE TARIFF.

Excellent Reasons Why Bryan Takes Refuge Behind the Money Issue.

If ever a man deserved crushing defeat, as a punishment to himself and a warning to others like him, it is William J. Bryan. Said Mr. Bryan in his Cincinnati speech:

"Wherever you have the gold standard you have stagnation in business and men out of work."

We had the gold standard in the McKinley tariff years, Mr. Bryan. Then every mill and factory in this country was busy. Then wages went up in all manufacturing industries. Then the wage earners had so much more money to spend that in 1892 they were able to pay for and consume 70,000,000 more bushels of wheat than in 1889, though the population of the country was 5,000,000 less than it now is. In the McKinley years the farmer was able to sell his crops, getting good standard money for them and paying off his debts with it, dollar for dollar, and buying what he wanted, dollar for dollar.

We had the gold standard from 1883 to 1892, and in that time wages advanced in the manufacturing industries exactly 50 per cent. In the trades, during the same period, wages advanced 25 per cent for two hours' less work a day.

We had the gold standard from March, 1881, to March, 1893, and in that time, under protective tariff laws, the government's interest bearing debt was reduced from $1,660,936,000 to $639,034,280.

When the present free trade administration came into power and when the free trade Wilson law was passed, we had stagnation in business and men out of work." We had 1,000,000 men out of employment, and the wage payments of the country diminished by more than $300,000,000 a year. We had the value of the farmer's live stock reduced enormously—the value of our sheep alone was cut in half, from $125,000,000 to $63,000,000; his cereal crops without a market because the wage earners could not buy what they formerly had consumed, and mortgage payments stopped. We had four issues of bonds, which, principal and interest, will cost the people $502,000,000 to pay off. We had a constant treasury deficiency because our expenditures vastly exceeded our revenues.

We had all this debt, poverty and misery, Mr. Bryan, because of the Wilson law. You voted for that bill. As a member of the tariff and means committee you helped to frame it. You urged even heavier reductions in the tariff than were made.

And because you know, Mr. Bryan, that it was this monstrous Wilson law that brought ruin to the country, you are afraid to discuss the tariff. You take a coward's refuge behind the money issue. It was you and the Wilson law, Mr. Bryan, which brought stagnation in business and men out of work." You, as much as Grover Cleveland and Professor Wilson, are responsible, and the people of the United States will exact the penalty from you on election day—the penalty of a defeat that will be a shame and a disgrace to you.—New York Press.

A FREE SILVER FLOOD.

It Would Keep the White Metal Down to Its Bullion Value.

A 53 cent dollar is a silver dollar that will exchange for only its bullion value, or 53 cents in gold. It is the kind of dollar that wage earners of every sort would receive under free coinage. Of course, the dollar would be nominally a 100 cent dollar, and would be worth 100 cents in silver, but, like Mexican dollars at the present time, it would take two of them to buy a gold dollar or a gold dollar's worth of commodities.

Under our present money standard and system our 413½ grain silver dollars, though containing but 53 cents' worth of silver, are held up by the government to a parity with gold.

The government does this just now with some difficulty. Though the number of silver dollars is limited it has to borrow gold to maintain the parity, but under free coinage the supply of silver dollars would be unlimited, and they would have to pass at their bullion value, since it would be entirely impossible for the United States government alone to keep the world's supply of silver on a parity with gold at a ratio of 16 to 1.—Philadelphia Press.

The platforms from which Bryan speaks have a habit of falling down. The Popocrat and Populist platforms on which he is trying to stand will collapse in November.

Bryan Had Whiskers Once.

The Hon. William Alfred Pepper of Kansas is to take the stump for Mr. Bryan. Mr. Pepper is an older Populist than his candidate, not a better. For years Kansas has trembled with Mr. Pepper's agitation for bad money. You can't get too bad money for Pepper. The worse it is, the better he likes it. He watched for Mr. Bryan as a good Populist at St. Louis, and time has shown that for once he knew what he was talking about. Mr. Bryan is as sound or unsound a Populist as there is, and entirely worthy of the support which Mr. Pepper is giving him. Would any persons who call themselves Democrats vote for Mr. Pepper if he were a candidate for president? Why not, if they are ready to vote for Mr. Bryan? The only difference between the two men is whiskers.—New York Sun.

AT ADAMS TODAY.

Meeting of the Young Men's Literary and Debating Society Monday Evening—Events of This Evening—Work on the Center Street Bridge—Gates Being Set up at the Present Depot Street Crossing—Principal John C. Hull Elected a Library Trustee—in Court this Morning.

Literary Club's Meeting.

The Young Men's Literary and Debating Society met in its new room in the Congregational church Monday evening. The room has been splendidly repaired and is an ideal place for the young men's sessions. The regular program arranged for the evening was dispensed with and a purely business session was held. The finance committee rendered an excellent report. Rev. S. P. Orth gave some excellent points gathered from debating societies to which he formerly belonged. The public meeting of November 6 will take the place of the regular meeting of the 11th, and the next one will occur Wednesday evening, November 18. This membership committee was appointed: Thomas K. McAllister, James P. Magenis and Michael J. Curran.

The public meeting will be held in the Congregational house auditorium. James P. Magenis will give a humorous history of the society and Thomas K. McAllister will prophesy its future. An oration will be delivered by S. P. Orth, and John Youmans will give a recitation. The question, "Resolved that the Right of Suffrage Should be Extended to Women," will be discussed, William S. Morton and Charles Haworth taking the affirmative and Henry L. Harrington and Michael J. Curran the negative. President Peter P. Smith will arrange the musical part.

Events of the Evening.

The Baptist Young People's union will have a missionary meeting and a box supper will be served. The members will be divided into four classes and will discuss the merits of Alaska, Mexico, and the Indian and Negro districts of the United States. The division which presents the best case will receive the proceeds of the meeting for use in its field. Lafayette band will hold its weekly rehearsal at the band room.

The women of St. Mark's Episcopal church will serve supper in the parish house at 8 o'clock.

The members of the "Workingmen's Brigade" will meet at Republican headquarters to practice drilling.

Court Adams, F. of A., will attend the social to be held by the North Adams society.

The executive committee of the McKinley and Hobart club will hold its weekly meeting.

The United Workmen's weekly meeting will be held.

Miss Agnes Turnbull will lead the weekly meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at the Congregational house on the topic "Are we doing our best?" At this meeting the committee work of the society will be considered.

In Court this Morning.

Hugh Anderson was in court this morning on a charge of disturbing the peace. Saturday night Anderson was at Benbow and having some words with Edward Nimmons struck him. Nimmons appeared against Anderson this morning. He was fined $5.

J. M. Hallon was fined $5 for drunkenness. Alexander Meiklejohn, Jr., was fined $5 Monday for drunkenness.

Taking Down the Bridge.

Several men in the employ of the Berlin Bridge company of Berlin, Conn., arrived Monday and commenced taking down the Center street bridge. They will move it to Denn street and then P. J. Barrett will set his men at work again on the foundation for the new one. He will have this completed in about two weeks and then the construction of the new bridge will be started.

Setting up the Gates.

Boston & Albany workmen began Monday to set up gates at the crossing which separates Pleasant and Depot streets. This makes three crossings which have been provided with these necessary appendages and the most dangerous one, that on Park street, will be protected as soon as the new bridge is finished.

John C. Hull Chosen.

The selectmen and the trustees of the public library met in the selectmen's office Monday evening to choose a member of the latter board to replace ex-Superintendent Walter P. Beckwith. John C. Hull, principal of the high school was chosen to fill the vacancy.

James T. Baker, the shoe dealer, and the Bay State Clothing company are to have advertising signs on the boards enclosing the working space of the new Center street bridge builders.

The Adams whist club met with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Plankett Monday evening. The permissible goods of A. B. Joseph's attached stock was auctioned Monday morning and R. P. Sizgs bought them for a small amount.

The case of Ellen Conroy, administratrix, against John Raymond, will be heard before Judge Birby Saturday morning. Shaw and Harrington will represent the former and William D. Morton will appear for Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. DeBarthe have shipped their household effects to their new home in Worcester and will go themselves in a few days.

Mrs. W. Norman and son William, have returned from a visit in New York.

CHESHIRE.

The schools will close Friday to permit the teachers to attend the teachers' institute held at Dalton. The speakers will be Walter Sargent of North Grafton, G. T. Fletcher of Northampton, Superintendent Hall of North Adams and Superintendent Ingalls of Dalton.

E. G. Brown has been drawn jurymen for the October term of the superior court.

Mrs. E. B. Bowen has gone to Kansas City to visit her parents.

A concert will be given by the Electrical Graphophone Concert company of Troy, N. Y., under the auspices of the Universalist church this evening.

Ralph Williams has been selected from the first division of prize speakers at the high school in Adams to speak in the final contest.

Harrison Brown, who has been visiting friends and relatives in town, has returned to Gloversville, N. Y.

Miss Jennie Martin has gone to Genoa Junction to visit her sister, Mrs. Mary Minor.

The Methodist cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Miles Christman in East Cheshire.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Mrs. M. M. Gavitt.

Mrs. Marion L. C. Gavitt, wife of M. Morton Gavitt, died at her home at 7:45 o'clock this morning after a two weeks' illness of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Gavitt was born in Charlotte, Vt., January 31, 1853, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Severance. She came here with her parents while a child and had

BEAR THIS IN MIND.

It will Save You Many a Doctor's Bill—Many an Hour of Suffering—No Place Can Testify to this Better than North Adams.

You contract a cold in the chest. One that stays a while with you. It won't leave even after you have abused it to your heart's content. You have to eject it, break it up or scatter it. It may yield to simple remedies. Goose grease has been known to do the trick. Well after you have gotten rid of it there is no reason why you should not contract a cold in a month or perhaps in a year. Frail humanity is no more cold proof than bullet proof. It is so with other ailments of the body. Take the kidneys. They go wrong and cause an internal row. They often right themselves like the lever without using any medicine but as a rule kidney troubles stay a while. You use simple remedies similarly as you would if you had a cold and the trouble disappears.

Now bear this in mind, the cases that occur where kidney troubles leave without assistance or leave when prescribed for are less than one-half of one per cent. They linger on and recur periodically or semi-annually and as the victim ages he is crippled in the back—twisted and contorted in shape and as a regular hotbed of aches and pains. Bear this in mind also, the percentage of deaths directly and indirectly due to diseased kidneys is greater in manhood than from any other source—not to mention the shortened and miserable existence asked out for years and finally ended in thankfulness that death has stayed the suffering. When your kidneys go wrong don't dilly dally or procrastinate. Try something. Even if only a temporary derangement get rid of it quickly. It's the proof when once gone that it won't recur but you have stormed the redoubt and cleaned out the garrison. Nothing can touch Doan's Kidney Pills for the kidneys. Bear this fact in mind. Here is proof of it. Mrs. Yew resides at 3 Sperry Ave. She gives her experience very modestly and briefly. "I was suffering intensely from a grinding, aching and a lameness over my kidneys. I had a depressed and weary feeling continually and being on my feet caused me further distress. I longed to shake it off but I could not and I grew no better as time advanced. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills curing such disorders and I procured a box at Burlingame & Darby. They acted just as the wrapper represented they would. Very soon there remained no urinary trouble and my back became as formerly no aching, no lameness."

H. E. PARSONS, Dear Sir—It is with pleasure that I testify to the beneficial results of your treatment to my wife. She was afflicted with a Spinal Trouble for several years and for the past two years has been almost continually under the care of physicians, but without any permanent benefit. She began to improve immediately after you began treating her (about four months ago) and is now as well as ever. In fact, I consider her nearly if not entirely recovered from her trouble. I consider it a wonderful cure and from that and others of which I have personal knowledge I would recommend afflicted ones to try your healing powers. Yours gratefully, S. F. WELLMAN.

starving children

There are children without food. They cry for it, and are not answered. The pity of it! But often nature cries out in other ways that her children need nourishment. Is your child thin; actually poor in flesh? Does it get no benefit from its food? Then give something which produces flesh and makes rich blood.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites does more than this. It changes the unhealthy action to one of health, thus removing the cause. It acts on the nervous system, which controls all the processes of the body, toning it up into sound and vigorous activity. It is food for growing bone and brain. It makes the thin plump; the pale, ruddy; the weak, strong; it feeds and cures.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.
